PARADISE FOUND

Let go of ordinary and embrace fantasy in the U.S. Virgin Islands. Our white sand beaches inspire relaxation, steady trade winds keep the average temperature at a balmy 80°, and the diverse beauty of St. Croix, St. John and St. Thomas gives you every opportunity to create your own idea of paradise.

TOP REASONS TO GO TO THE USVI

SHOP, SHOP, SHOP!

The USVI has been a “shopping” destination since 1607! Before arriving in present-day Virginia, the Jamestown settlers (who built the first successful English settlement in North America) stopped off in Charlotte Amalie to stock up on supplies. Discover the unique products each island has to offer and spend up to $1,600 duty-free!

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE

The USVI is the only U.S. Territory that is bordered by both the Atlantic Ocean and the Caribbean Sea. With all that water, it's only natural to find so many beautiful beaches. Not to mention endless water activities — diving, sailing, kayaking, sport fishing, snorkeling, windsurfing, parasailing and kite boarding, to name a few.

A TRIO OF FANTASTIC CARNIVALS & FESTIVALS

It's the biggest party of the year times three! Food, drink, music and masquerading! St. Croix's Christmas Festival starts in December. St. Thomas's carnival culminates in the final week of April. St. John's celebration begins in June and runs through Fourth of July week.

BEST RUMS IN THE CARIBBEAN

With the legendary Cruzan Rum and Captain Morgan Rum both being produced in the USVI, visitors have the opportunity to visit the local distilleries and learn the secrets of making the finest rums in the world.

EASE OF ACCESS

With non-stop service available from most major carriers, the USVI can be reached from the U.S. mainland in as quickly as two and a half hours. With no passport required for U.S. citizens, English being the language spoken and the U.S. dollar as official currency, your hassle-free vacation is within easy reach.

USVI FUN FACT

The USVI are about 1,100 miles from Miami, about 1,600 miles from New York City and a million miles from ordinary.

TAKE A STROLL BACK IN TIME

Journey to a faraway place — the past. Over the years, explorers, pirates, kings and queens have all sought the natural splendor of our shores. Seven nations have governed our land, leaving behind a rich tapestry of art, architecture, music and cuisine. All of which makes the perfect backdrop for an unscripted adventure.

VISIT THE HISTORIC TOWNS, OLD PLANTATIONS, FORTS, CHURCHES AND SUGAR MILLS THAT MAKE UP THE RICH HISTORY OF THE USVI

OUR FORTS WERE BUILT TO FEND OFF PIRATES. YOU, HOWEVER, ARE ENCOURAGED TO VISIT.

Our islands have many forts, built to protect our precious shores from the onslaught of pirates. They also served as courthouses, prisons, and as places for religious services. Visit Fort Christiansvaern or Fort Frederik on St. Croix, Fort Christian on St. Thomas, Fortsberg in St. John or Water Island's Fort Segarra.

THEY AREN'T JUST BUILDINGS. THEY'RE ICONIC LANDMARKS IN COLONIAL HISTORY.

Constructed in 1867 as the meeting place for the Danish Colonial Council, St. Thomas Government House serves today as the Governor's Office. On St. Croix, Government House illustrates the grandeur of Danish buildings from the period in the West Indies when sugar was king. This building is one of the largest governor's residences in the Lesser Antilles, and visitors are welcome.

ST. CROIX

Whim Plantation Museum — With its original early 18th Century plantation buildings covering 12 acres of land, it is the oldest sugar plantation museum in the Virgin Islands. The fully restored windmill and sugar factory ruins are open for you to explore. You can see sugar cane growing nearby in one of the plantation gardens.

Buddhoe Park — On July 3, 1848, "General Buddhoe" Gottlieb rallied more than 6,000 armed slaves at this park to demand freedom. As a result, Governor Peter von Scholten proclaimed the emancipation of the slaves on this day. Located next to Fort Frederik Museum in Frederiksted, the park contains a bronze bust of the renowned slave rebellion leader.

Lord God of Saboath Lutheran Church — Built in the 1740s, this Lutheran Church is St. Croix's oldest extant church. Originally the Dutch Reformed Church, it was transferred to the Lutheran Congregation in 1831, which is now the Steeple Building. The most distinctive feature is the neoclassical tower, built in 1834 and designed by Albert Lovmand, the official Architect of the Danish Colonies at the time.

Holy Cross Catholic Church — Originally built in 1755, Holy Cross was extensively altered in the 1850s. It was built in the shape of a cross to represent St. Croix, which means "holy cross" in French. It is located on Queen Street in Christiansted.

ST. JOHN

Annaberg Sugar Mill Ruins — Is one of several of St. John's plantations owned in the 1720s and 1730s by Frederick Moth, the first Danish Governor of St. Croix and, later, the Governor General of the Danish West Indies. By the early 19th century, Annaberg, one of St. John's biggest sugar producers, also produced molasses and rum for export.

The Emmaus Moravian Church — Located in Coral Bay, the church is on the List of Registered Historic Places in the United States Virgin Islands and holds an interesting place in St. John's history. It was the only church allowed to minister to the slaves and was instrumental in establishing Dutch Creole as the language spoken between planters and the enslaved Africans. The Church stands next to the Caroline Estate plantation, the site of a 1733 slave revolt that resulted in the murder of the plantation owner and his 12-year-old daughter. This church is said to be haunted.

ST. THOMAS

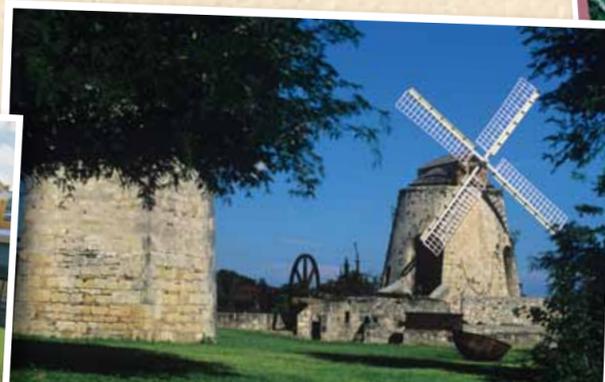

Camille Pissarro Building — The father of French Impressionism, Camille Pissarro was born and raised in Charlotte Amalie. His childhood home is now an art gallery featuring artwork from dozens of artists, including Camille Pissarro himself.

Beracha Veshalom Vegmiluth Hasidim Synagogue — Built in 1796 by Sephardic Jews, the St. Thomas Synagogue is one of the oldest synagogues in the Western Hemisphere. People of all faiths are welcome to visit the sand-floored interior of this National Historic Landmark.

St. Thomas Reformed Church — The church was established around 1660, and is one of the oldest congregations in the Virgin Islands. Organized by Dutch traders as the St. Thomas Protestant Reformed Dutch Church, the first church was built in the mid-1670s on the savannah east of the Fort in the area known as Barracks Yard. In the 1740s a new church was built on Snegle Gade, which burned in 1804. A new church was immediately erected, but was again destroyed by fire in 1806. The cornerstone of the present church was laid September 18, 1844, and completed and consecrated on February 8, 1848.

Frederick Lutheran Church — Built in 1820 in a combination of neo-classical and gothic revival architecture, this historic church retains much of its original character. Gracious steps and an arched doorway greet visitors. The church has an elaborate bell tower, lovely stained glass windows and other historical features that date back to the days when Denmark owned the Virgin Islands. Since the Lutheran Church was then the Danish state church, the governor often filled in for the minister. Home to the oldest Lutheran congregation in the Virgin Islands, this revivalist style structure was completed in 1844.

New Herrnhut Moravian Church — Missionary Frederick Martin established this house of worship in St. Thomas in 1737 after purchasing a plantation on the east end of St. Thomas. The plantation was named "New Herrnhut" in honor of the Mother Church in Germany. It is the Virgin Islands' first Moravian Church.

USVI FUN FACT

Most large carnival costumes are made from bent wires, then covered with papier-mâché, foam, feathers, sequins, foil and glitter.

SET YOUR INNER DANCER FREE

Let the rhythm of carnival move you. In the USVI, it's carnival all year long! Dance to your heart's delight as quelbe and calypso float through the air. Try a Johnny Cake or a shellfish paté as you watch mocko jumbies parade through the streets and steel pan bands battle to see who will take the crown at Panorama. Each year brings with it new foods, exciting performances, vibrant parades and colorful costumes. Take in one or all three of our lively festivals, each offering its own unique experience.

V.I. CARNIVAL (April - May)

V.I. Carnival in St. Thomas is the first Carnival of the year, usually celebrated from mid-April to the beginning of May. It began in 1912 but didn't become an annual event until 1952. Since that time, the V.I. Carnival has been a time to reconnect with family and friends and enjoy the captivating music, vivacious dance, savory cuisine and spirited pageantry that make V.I. Carnival the second most popular celebration in the Caribbean.

ST. JOHN FESTIVAL (June - July)

Carnival in St. John combines the excitement of carnival with the spirit of emancipation. July 3, 1848, marks the date slaves were emancipated in the USVI. In honor of the USVI's independence, the St. John Festival takes place in late June and traditionally culminates on July 4th. It's an exciting time of year, as Cruz Bay becomes hopping with life, and the ferries between St. Thomas and St. John are filled with Carnival revellers. Don't miss special events like the opening of the village, the food fair, the parade or the exciting 4th of July fireworks display.

CRUCIAN CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL (December - January)

Experience the rich heritage and culture St. Croix has to offer during the Crucian Christmas Festival. Started in 1954, this festival is celebrated from December through New Year's. Delicious culinary treats are yours to enjoy as carnival participants are adorned in an endless variety of madras colors and patterns. The festivities are spread throughout "Twin City," so be sure to visit both Christiansted and Frederiksted.

WHEN YOU'RE DONE RELAXING, THERE'S PLENTY MORE TO DO

Whether you seek crystal clear waters or secluded mountaintops, the USVI offers all kinds of land and water activities. Enjoy countless hiking trails, acres and acres of underwater national parkland, the best snorkeling in the Caribbean, stunning golf courses, a triathlon with contestants from every corner of the world and year-round competitive swimming. WHERE DIVERSITY MEANS EVERY TYPE OF DIVE IMAGINABLE

Our warm, turquoise waters are filled with exotic creatures and colorful marine life in a diversity of dive locales. Fill your logbook with wall, wreck, night and reef dives done by boat or from the shore. And do it all under the safe, strict control of U.S. waters.

Dive into the waters of the USVI and experience a world like you've never seen before. Swim alongside breathtaking corals. Weave through an untouched shipwreck. Choose from a variety of diving options, each as beautiful as the last. Some examples of the exciting dive options are listed below:

CANE BAY

Some of the best diving in the U.S. Virgin Islands is along the wall that runs parallel to the North Shore of St. Croix. The wall at Cane Bay is the most popular site because it is easy to get to from the beach and even easier by boat. Covered in plate corals, elephant ear sponges and black coral, the wall starts at 60 feet and goes down to over 2,000 feet! Schools of horse-eyed jacks are common along the wall and so are a reef shark or two. In the shallows of Cane Bay you can find large gray angelfish, schools of black durgon, stingrays, and even the occasional seahorse.

CARVAL ROCK

Carval Rock is best known for its dramatic and beautiful rock formations loaded with a rainbow-like assortment of corals, sponges and gorgonians. At the base of the rocks, you'll notice a passageway that will take you through to the other side of the rock, where you might catch a glimpse of a dozen or so shiny tarpon feeding on schools of silversides.

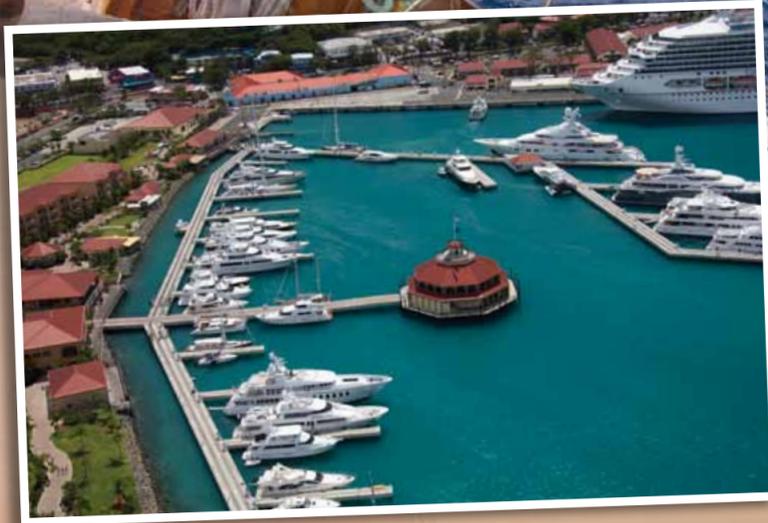

WRECK OF THE WIT SHOAL II

Located in 90 feet of water off the Southwest coast of St. Thomas, the 328 foot WIT Shoal II was once an armed military cargo ship (LST 467) designed to transport and land up to 20 tanks during World War II. There are five different levels to explore with a wide variety of entries and exits, including the coral-encrusted smoke stacks.

PACK YOUR BAGS THEN, PICK UP LOTS OF NEW ONES

Explore all the fine shops, exotic arts and crafts and unique bargains our islands have to offer. And fill your bag guilt free, knowing we're a duty-free destination. Deals on everything from gems, watches and cameras to crystal, china and fabrics have earned the USVI the reputation as "The Shopping Mecca of the Caribbean."

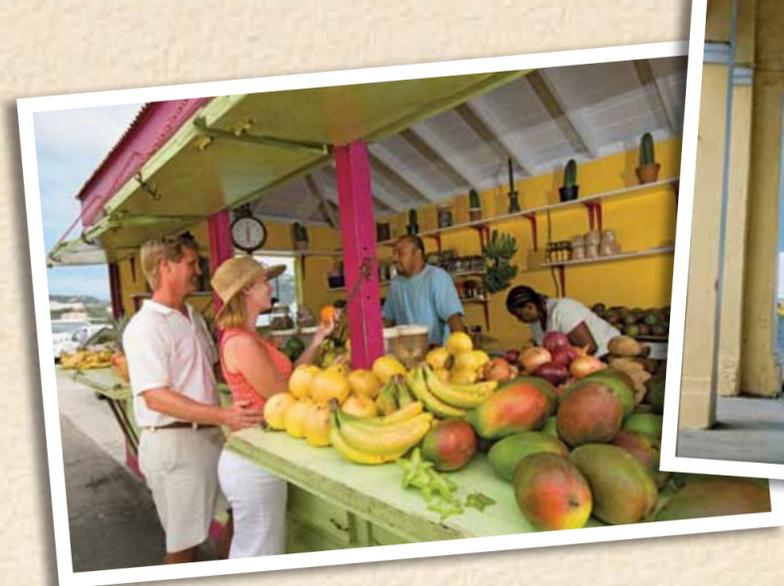

Every island in the USVI features world-class shopping with one world-famous incentive: the highest duty-free shopping limit in the Caribbean.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE The first permanent European settlement on St. Thomas island was established in 1672 after the arrival of the Danish West India and Guinea Company. The town was named in honor of Denmark's Queen. An accidental misspelling on a map changed the name of the town to Charlotte Amalie after the U.S. acquisition of the islands. During the 17th Century, the settlement and harbor were known as safe havens for pirates and other infamous men, the likes of Jean Hamlin, Bartholomew Sharp, "Tempest" Roberts and Captain Kidd. During the early 19th-Century Napoleonic Wars, the British occupied the island, and later, during the American Civil War, Confederate blockade runners briefly used Charlotte Amalie as a base. Today, the Charlotte Amalie Historic District includes buildings and sites that represent the town's history and is considered the shopping capital of the Caribbean!

YACHT HAVEN GRANDE A chic duty-free Mecca for luxury goods. Amidst the palm trees and panoramic views of the harbor, you will find exclusive boutiques, such as Gucci, Louis Vuitton, Bulgari and Salvatore Ferragamo.

CROWN BAY CENTER Offers convenient one-level shopping with the finest in fashion and creative local arts and crafts. This seaside retail and commercial center, located on the southwest side of St. Thomas, offers cruise passengers, overnight guests and local residents a vivid variety of retail delights sure to satisfy even the most savvy shopper.

HAVENSIGHT MALL This popular one-stop destination on St. Thomas is located on the grounds of the West Indian Company Limited, which is also home to one of the island's cruise ports. Havensight Mall has over 100 stores and businesses with the same low, duty-free prices as in town. Shop, enjoy one of the attractions, sip a cool tropical drink or have a full meal at one of the many restaurants and bars. Sit by a cool fountain, view the cruise ships and watch the world go by.

RED HOOK A popular east end destination, it features an unofficial "town" of red-tiled roof homes and businesses dotting a rolling coastline that overlooks Pillsbury Sound and the island of St. John. Red Hook's atmosphere is very relaxed. Here you will find an array of activities to keep you occupied. You will find everything from an apothecary to a veterinarian, with plenty of restaurants, pool halls, bars, banks and charter boat businesses in between.

HISTORIC FREDERIKSTED This quiet, charming, seaside town features a Danish fort and museum, historic churches, quaint shops and restaurants lining the waterfront and side streets, and a white sand beach within a short walking distance. Located on the west end of St. Croix, the town of Frederiksted provides visitors an opportunity to find fantastic deals on locally made handicrafts, historic books and local art.

TOWN OF CHRISTIANSTED The island's largest town, Christiansted, is located on the northeastern part of St. Croix. Here, visitors will find a variety of shops, art galleries, restaurants and bars, as well as historical buildings, churches and a Danish fort. A welcome center at the Government House provides visitor information. The National Park Service also operates a visitor center next to Fort Christiansvaern. The town boasts handmade jewelry, fine china, perfumes and clothing boutiques, colorful glassware, along with wood and metal works. And don't forget to take back a bit of the island's spirit, with up to six bottles of Cruzan Rum, duty-free.

MONGOOSE JUNCTION A superb collection of shops and restaurants, this shopping destination is housed in a unique architectural and tropical setting.
